Maggie Johnson

What are spiders like? Well, they're curious, tenacious, passionate, adventurous, and so much more. Of course, I'm talking about the University of Richmond Spiders. Hi, my name is Maggie Johnson, and I'm the host of a new podcast, "As Spiders Do," from the University of Richmond Office of Alumni Relations. I'm an alum myself, from the class of 2018. And I am so excited to share stories with you about the amazing things that my fellow Spiders are up to! Catch new episodes and subscribe to our show on your favorite podcasting app and drop us a line at alumni@richmond.edu if you know an alum that we should feature. Remember, there are spiders everywhere, and that's a really good thing. Talk to you soon.
